

The Scottish Halberdiers, after the battle of Solway Moss gathered up as many halberds as possible and made through the marshes refusing to surrender to the English. The Scottish Halberdiers hoping to rally around James the Fifth were dismayed to hear of his death. Hardened and resolved we vowed to have the best trained halberdiers in the world. After many years of training our clansmen we are now sometimes called the Queens Guard and protect our Kings daughter, Queen Mary.
